

about auswalk

Auswalk has been operating quality Australian walking holidays since 1994. It is a small family business, owned and operated by Monica & Phil Coleman (pictured left) and based in the spectacular Grampians Ranges. We are both passionate about walking and delight in offering walking holidays to destinations that we personally love. As Australians, we know that we live in a lucky country. Where else could you find excellent walking in such a wide variety of environments including tropical rainforests, the remote outback, alpine regions, isolated coastlines, idyllic islands and rugged mountain ranges?

We offer group guided, inn-to-inn and customised walking holidays. All our holidays showcase Australia's best national parks, reserves and forests. We believe the best way to really experience an area is on foot, so our walking routes are not simply the shortest distance between two points. They take you to beautiful places, sometimes remote, usually peaceful, often wild. Sometimes our walk locations are bustling with tourists but our preference is to get you well away from the throngs! We are committed to providing quality holidays that are excellent value for money. Each trip has been thoroughly researched to ensure high standards are maintained. Our program of regular review and response to feedback ensures that you will have a unique and highly memorable holiday.

For your peace of mind, Auswalk is a registered company. We have achieved Advanced Ecotourism certification, have all the necessary business licences to operate in the National Parks we visit and have won several awards for excellence in tourism. Through business accreditation, we have established high standards of excellence in ethical conduct and business practices including safety procedures, business and risk management, consumer protection and environmental practices.
